Appendix A

Definitions

All terms used in this Request for Information will have their ordinary meaning unless such terms are otherwise defined herein, in the CAA, 42 U.S.C. §§ 7401 et seq., or the Motor Vehicle and Engine, and Non-Road Regulations including those found at 40 C.F.R. Parts 85, 86, 1039, 1045, 1051, 1054, and 1068.

1. The term “Amazon” or “You” or “Your” includes, but is not limited to, Amazon and any parent or other related organization, affiliate, predecessor, successor, and assignee organization at any location.
2. The term “catalyst” refers to an exhaust after-treatment emission related part that consists of a flow-through honeycomb structure which is coated with an active metal catalyst and housed in a metal casing. The catalyst lowers emissions of particulate matter (“PM”), hydrocarbons (“HC”), and carbon monoxide (“CO”).
3. The term “diesel particulate filter” or “DPF” refers to an exhaust after-treatment emission related part that physically traps particulates and removes them from the exhaust stream, typically using a porous ceramic or cordierite substrate or metallic filter.
4. The term “electronic control module” or “ECM” means a device that receives inputs from various sensors and outputs signals to control engine, vehicle, or equipment functions. ECM programming relies on calculations and tables of information to provide appropriate outputs. ECM can be a generic term but may refer specifically to the engine control module when discussing emission related parts on motor vehicles and engines. ECMs may be incorporated separately with multiple units or may be combined into a single unit.
5. The term “emission-related parts” means those parts installed for the specific purpose of controlling emissions or those components, systems, or elements of design which must function properly to assure continued vehicle emission compliance, as defined in 40 C.F.R. § 85.2102.

Examples of emission-related parts include, but are not limited to, air/fuel injection calibrations, catalysts, DPFs, exhaust gas recirculation (“EGR”) systems, NO_x adsorption catalyst (“NAC”) systems, on-board diagnostic (“OBD”) systems, and selective catalytic reduction (“SCR”) systems.

In the context of nonroad vehicles and engines, any part of the “emission control system” and any “critical emission-related component,” as defined in 40 C.F.R. § 1051.801, are considered examples of “emission-related parts.”

6. The term “exhaust gas recirculation” or “EGR” refers to an emission related part that directs a portion of engine exhaust back into the engine’s combustion chamber in order to control combustion temperatures and pressures, thereby reducing the production of nitrogen oxides (“NO_x”). The EGR system may include a cooler, which cools the recirculated exhaust.
7. The term “selective catalytic reduction” or “SCR” refers to an exhaust after-treatment emission related part that includes systems (the diesel exhaust fluid (“DEF”) tank, urea quality sensor, DEF injection system, SCR catalyst(s), and other associated sensors), which inject a reductant, such as DEF, into the exhaust stream where it reacts with catalysts to convert NO_x emissions to nitrogen gas (“N₂”) and water (“H₂O”).

8. The term “tuner” or “tune” means any device, product, or software file capable of accessing, altering, or replacing a vehicle or engine’s stock software programming, calculations, computer logic, tables of information (e.g., fuel timing maps), code, or other content stored within or used by an ECM.

Appendix B

Instructions for Responses

1. Provide a complete, detailed response to each of the requests in Appendix C, below. Provide any narrative responses or lists in English. Where noted in Appendix C requests, provide answers in the specified format (e.g. Appendix I Excel workbook format or .pdf). If a given spreadsheet response field requested does not apply or is not available, list “n/a” for the corresponding cell.
2. This Request for Information Request is a continuing request. You must promptly supplement your response to any request in Appendix C in the event you learn that you possess responsive information not yet produced or if you gain possession, custody, or control of responsive information after initially responding to this Request for Information Request.
3. For each answer, provide the number of the request to which it responds and identify each person who provided information that was used to prepare that answer. For each document produced, provide the number of the request to which it responds.
4. When a response is provided in the form of a number, specify the units of measure corresponding to the number.
5. Where documents or information necessary for a response is not in Your possession, custody, or control, indicate in Your response why such documents or information are not available or in your possession, custody, or control, and identify any source that either possesses or is likely to possess such information.
6. Where a request allows or requires documents to be provided in response, provide all documents electronically in a folder specific to that request and labeled with the number of the request. Follow any other formatting or naming conventions specified by the request. All submitted documents should be copies and not original documents.
7. Where You have previously submitted information to the EPA that is also the subject of this Request for Information, re-submit that information in accordance with these instructions. (Appendix B). Identify the material that was previously provided, the date on which it was provided, how the information was provided (e.g., electronically, fax, mail), and the individual at the EPA to whom it was provided.
8. Provide Your response to this Information Request in electronic form. All responsive documents and materials (e.g., copies of print media, audio, and visual material) must be provided as an accurate and legible copy in searchable unlocked format, number stamped in sequential order (e.g., BATES stamped). Where spreadsheets are responsive to a Request, produce them in unlocked electronic .xlsx spreadsheet format (locked files are unacceptable).

Easy to install. Like the real time changes you can make. But for 1500 plus having to buy the warp tuning to make more changes transmission and few other things bumps price up 600+ . Out the box tunes it comes with are very basic .

Confidential Business Information

An entity may assert a business confidentiality claim covering all or part of the information provided in response to this Information Request for any business information entitled to confidential treatment under Section 208(c) of the CAA, 42 U.S.C. § 7542, and 40 C.F.R. Part 2, subpart B. Under Section 208(c) of the CAA, entities are entitled to confidential treatment of information that would divulge methods or processes entitled to protection as trade secrets. Under 40 C.F.R. Part 2, subpart B, business confidentiality means “the concept of trade secrecy and other related legal concepts which give (or may give) a business the right to preserve the confidentiality of business information and to limit its use or disclosure by others in order that the business may obtain or retain business advantages it derives from its rights in the information.” 40 C.F.R. § 2.201(e).

Information covered by a claim of business confidentiality will be disclosed by the EPA only to the extent, and by means of the procedures, set forth in Section 208(c) of the CAA and 40 C.F.R. Part 2, subpart B. If no such business confidentiality claim accompanies the response to this Information Request when it is received by the EPA, then such information may be made available to the public without further notice. See 40 C.F.R. § 2.204(a)(3).

Pursuant to 40 C.F.R. § 2.301(h), the EPA possesses the authority to disclose to any authorized representative of the United States information which might otherwise be entitled to confidential treatment. To assist in its review and analysis, the EPA may disclose information provided in response to this and other information requests to an EPA contractor, the Eastern Research Group, under contract number EP-W-15-006.

To assert a business confidentiality claim, an entity must place on (or attach to) all information subject to the claim either a cover sheet, stamped or typed legend, or other suitable form of notice employing language such as “trade secret,” “proprietary,” or “company confidential” at the time it provides its response to this Information Request. Allegedly confidential portions of otherwise non-confidential documents should be clearly identified and may be provided separately to facilitate identification and handling by the EPA. An entity should indicate whether confidential treatment is only required until a certain date or until the occurrence of a certain event.

The criteria the EPA will use in determining whether material claimed as business confidential is entitled to confidential treatment are set forth at 40 C.F.R. §§ 2.208(a)-(d) and 2.301. Emission data, as defined at 40 C.F.R. § 2.301(a)(2), is expressly not entitled to confidential treatment under 40 C.F.R. Part 2, subpart B. See 42 U.S.C. § 7542(c); 40 C.F.R. § 2.301(e).
